

THE LIPS THAT COMMAND!

GEN. SIR JOHN FRENCH

GEN. JOFFRE

GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS

GRAND ADM. VON TIRPITZ

EARL KITCHENER

GEN. VON KLUCK

EMPEROR WILHELM

ADM. JELICOE

The lips from which come the commands of eight forceful men in the great war. Sir John French is the field marshal commanding the British land forces; Gen. Joffre, the French commander-in-chief; Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russian commander-in-chief; Grand Admiral von Tirpitz, the German naval chief; Earl Kitchener, British secretary of war; Gen. von Kluck, German officer in charge of operations against French and English; Emperor William of Germany, the great figure of the war; Admiral Jellicoe, chief of the British fleets.